Description

A beautiful, large linen damask tablecloth (late 19th century), marked "FB" against a background of an abundant pattern of morning glories, ipomeas, or volubilis. The striking contrast of the damask comes to life as it effortlessly plays with both natural and artificial light. A very high-quality tablecloth in shades of white, with a drape that is both fluid and substantial. Condition: Note two small, old repairs, both beautifully executed, one of which is much smaller than the other. They are located near the initials but remain fairly discreet (see photos). Antique white tablecloth in very good overall condition, washed and ironed.?Buy this item on our website? Additional informations and photos? Online payments ? Shipping conditions ?
