Description

A monumental Italian chandelier composed of long, clear glass rods suspended from a gold-toned metal frame. Arranged in successive rows at varying heights, the rods form a cascade and accentuate the verticality of the composition.Light diffuses through the rows of glass. Reflections multiply from one stem to the next, highlighting the three-dimensionality of the design. The golden hue of the frame contrasts with the transparency of the glass and adds warmth to the overall effect.At 140 cm tall, this chandelier is particularly well-suited for spacious areas, such as a foyer, a stairwell, or a living room with a high ceiling, where its silhouette can be fully appreciated.Origin: Murano, ItalyMaterials: clear glass and gold-toned metalHeight: 140 cm
