Description

Naveta. Unpolished silver. Salamanca, Spain, 1824-1850.With hallmarks and inscriptions.Unpolished silver vessel with a circular, stepped base adorned with ready-made moldings, a turned, fluted shaft or pedestal, and an elongated upper section, with a lid on one side and a protrusion on the other side of the piece (note the damage in this area). The hallmarks located on the rim of the upper section (under the hinged lid) and on the base date the manufacture of this naveta to Salamanca, during the years when the hallmarker known as Bernabé Hidalgo was active (apparently documented in 1840, though some believe he was active in the 18th and 19th centuries; there is evidence that a certain Bernabé Sahagún Hidalgo served as a hallmarker in Salamanca between 1824 and 1850).
