Description

Large Art Deco Ceiling Light with Glass TubesImposing Art Deco ceiling light attributed to Petitot, made in France around 1930.The structure, made of newly chrome-plated brass, is punctuated by numerous glass tubes and framed on the sides by satin-finished glass panels with elegantly curved lines.The design combines architectural geometry with more fluid forms. The contrast between the shiny chrome, the transparent tubes, and the satin-finished glass panels gives the fixture a particularly spectacular presence.The ceiling fixture features eight E14 light sockets and is remarkably large.Attributed to PetitotFrance, circa 1930Chrome-plated brass | glass tubes | satin-finished glass8 E14 light socketsHeight: 94 cm | Width: 92.5 cm | Depth: 43.5 cm
