Description

Large cross featuring a carving of Christ on the cross. Entirely made of wood. The face is characterized by delicate, serene features, closed eyes, and a carefully carved beard and mustache. The anatomy of the body is realistic; the hips are encircled by a perizonium (hip belt) with deep, supple folds, tied with a decorative cord. At the top of the cross is a plaque bearing the inscription INRI. The entire piece rests on a contoured base, indicating that this crucifix was intended for an altar or a cabinet.Baroque, 18th century. Central Europe?Cross: 103 x 57 cm. Figure of Christ: 68 x 45.5 cm.Condition visible in the photos; relatively good, with slight traces of polychromy.Shipping to be arranged.
