in 1908.Between 1909 and 1923, he received several commissions from the Chalcographie du Louvre. It is therefore likely that our engraving was produced during this period.The engraving is in very fine condition. It has undergone meticulous cleaning by our restorer, who has carefully removed the marks of time, restored its original brilliance and enhanced the delicacy of its details, allowing the remarkable beauty and finesse of the impression to shine through.We invite you to examine the photographs carefully, as they form an integral part of the description and provide an accurate representation of the engraving's condition.
