Description

This charming little side table perfectly embodies the spirit of the Transition style, elegantly blending the curved lines of the Louis XV style with the decorative simplicity of the Louis XVI style.Crafted from mahogany veneer in warm tones, this accent piece stands out for the meticulous attention to detail in its marquetry. The intricately designed top features, at its center, a delicate bouquet of flowers inlaid with stained wood, surrounded by an elegant frame with geometric motifs and accented along its edge by a thin molding. This top opens to reveal an organized interior featuring a mirror and a compartmentalized storage area with shelves.On the front, the molding simulates a decorative top drawer to preserve the piece's aesthetic, while a functional drawer is located in the lower section.
