Description

This charming little desk immediately catches the eye with its authentic lines and soft hue. Its timeless silhouette, characteristic of the delicacy of Louis-Philippe-style furniture, rests on four superb solid-wood legs, finely turned into balusters, which give it a base that is both stable and airy. The rectangular cherry wood top reveals a natural grain of great elegance, beautifully highlighted by the warm tones of the patina. Seamlessly integrated into the base of the piece, a central drawer with a pull knob offers storage space that is as discreet as it is functional. The traditional dowel-joint construction attests to exceptional craftsmanship and ensures this piece's remarkable longevity. Placed in an office, living room, or entryway, this versatile side table harmonizes elegantly with both contemporary
