Description

An original circus poster with five rearing horses from Belgium, printed in 1955 by Ets. Léon Beyaert-Sioen in Kortrijk. This Flemish printing house supplied posters to travelling circuses all over Europe, and the horse acts, with their richly decorated harnesses, were among the highlights of every show.The poster shows five horses side by side, rearing up on their hind legs in perfect harmony. Brown and white horses alternate, each with a red plume on the head and a white bridle and harness with red details. The image is set against a warm yellow background and framed by a wide, deep blue border.The poster is printed on paper in a wide landscape format. The colours are strong and lively, with a beautiful contrast between the yellow, the blue and the red. In the top right corner is the printer's archive stamp
