Description

Louis XVI-Period Marquetry Salon Table, circa 1780Charming Louis XVI-Period Salon Table with Curtains, Inlaid with Rosewood, Violetwood, and Precious Woods, Resting on Tapered Legs.This small table opens at the front with a drawer and curtains featuring fine vertical slats, topped with a lovely Calacatta marble top, surrounded on three sides by a low wooden railing. Its sides are carved in the shape of butterfly wings, accented with contrasting fillets. Its frames and legs are finished to resemble marble--a very fine wood species and remarkable marquetry work. Beautiful patina. Exquisitely crafted furniture with understated and refined lines. This table combines practicality--thanks to its small storage space--with the ability to display your art and decorative objects. It can be used as
