Antique Solid Oak Display Cabinet, Louis XIV Style, 17th Century

1 480 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oak

Description

Exceptional solid oak display cabinet, Louis XIV period, late 17th century - A very beautiful solid oak display cabinet of exceptional quality, featuring remarkable cabinetmaking.With its design, proportions, and rich decoration, this piece evokes the spirit of traditional château woodwork.The front opens with two large doors featuring molded and scroll-cut panels, framed by heavily molded stiles. The sides are also entirely crafted from molded panels, attesting to the exceptional care taken in its construction.The interior is particularly remarkable. It is constructed entirely of oak and features wide panels as well as two thick shelves. The quality of the interior craftsmanship is perfectly in keeping with the exterior design.The construction, the quality of the oak, the moldings, the traditional

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech
Lézignan-Corbières 11200

joinery, and the antique hardware all attest to a piece of furniture of the highest quality, intended to be seen and displayed.An exceptional piece of furniture due to its presence, quality of craftsmanship, and architectural character, which would fit perfectly in a historic home or an interior seeking a genuine piece of antique woodwork.Dimensions:Height: 126 cmWidth: 162 cmDepth: 68 cmPeriod: late 17th century - , Louis XIV period.