Description

Pair of opaline vases from the Napoleon III period.The flared conical shape is accentuated by the gold-leaf-embellished borders.The motif painted on a gray background depicts floral arrangements as an offering.Is it a morning glory?One thing is certain: the gold-leaf-embellished ribbon motif is in the Louis XVI style.Often displayed on fireplaces and dressers, this beautiful piece, much like a painting, adds depth to your room.The firing imperfections in this piece, as well as in the matching pair, are characteristic of that era.There's no doubt it will find its place.A rare set.Delivery available; not included in the price.
