Description

S.T. Dupont, founded in Paris in 1872, is one of the most prestigious French luxury houses, renowned for its precision-engineered lighters. The Ligne 1 is the model that made the house's name and became a symbol of French elegance. This is a Ligne 1 BS (Briquet Standard) in the large size (BSG), a model produced between 1959 and 1973. It is finished in silver plate with the classic engine-turned "grain d'orge" (barley) guilloché pattern, framed by polished borders. The lid cartouche bears the engraved initials "GL".
