Description

A magnificent work by Archiguille, the pseudonym of Augustin François Guille (1932-2017), titled "The Lawyer."In this particularly expressive abstract composition, the artist manages to suggest, with remarkable subtlety, the silhouette of a lawyer in court attire.The majestic black robe dominates the composition, while broad strokes of paint in shades of white and bluish-gray distinctly evoke the traditional white collar worn by lawyers.Through a bold interplay of colors, curves, and powerful brushstrokes, Archiguille brings forth an almost recognizable figure at the heart of abstraction.The striking contrast between the depth of the blacks, the brightness of the lapel, and the bursts of red, turquoise, and orange gives this work an exceptional presence.A
