A Romantic Scene In An Aristocratic Interior - France, Late 19th Century

1 150 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Oil painting on cardboard

Width : 46

Height : 53

Description

A Romantic Scene in an Aristocratic Interior - France, Late 19th CenturyAn elegant French painting from the late 19th century, executed in oil on cardboard, depicting a refined romantic scene set within a sumptuous aristocratic salon.The composition features a group of gentlemen and ladies in 18th-century attire, gathered in a room richly decorated with wood paneling, gilded stucco, and paintings on the walls.At the center of the scene, a young lady in a white dress with light blue drapery is surrounded by several figures, engaged in conversation and socializing.The painterly quality is particularly pleasing, characterized by loose and lively brushstrokes, delicate color transitions, and a skillful interplay of light and shadow that lends depth and atmosphere to the composition.The

Dealer

Gabriele e Gionata Retini

Furniture, paintings, sculptures, objets d'art, chandeliers, antiques

Tel : 3395268391

Via Marco Polo 147

Bientina - Pisa 56031

work reflects the 19th-century French taste for depictions of 18th-century aristocratic life, rendered with artistic sensitivity and attention to decorative detail.The painting is enhanced by a rich gilded frame, adorned with elaborate floral motifs and scrollwork.On the reverse is the stamp of the historic Parisian paint manufacturer Lefranc.Date: Late 19th century.Provenance: France.Medium: Oil on cardboard.Dimensions:- Painting: 41.5 × 34 cm- Frame: 53 × 46 cmA work of remarkable decorative charm, particularly well-suited to rooms furnished with antiques and collectibles.