Description

Large 19th-century console table gilded with pure gold, featuring four richly curved and carved legs joined at the bottom by a double crossbrace with a central coat of arms, and a large central frieze carved with floral motifs. The console table has areas where the gilding has naturally worn away, though this in no way detracts from its charm. White Carrara marble with restoration work performed over time. Dimensions: 151 x 61, height 98 cm
