Description

Welcome to La Trésorerie!This French brass door knocker features a hand holding an apple. A ring adorns one of the fingers, the cuff is finely crafted, and the rectangular mounting plate is edged with a beaded design. The matching round mounting nail is included, along with the threaded rods and nuts shown in the photos.This door knocker was manufactured by Camion Frères in Vivier-au-Court in the French Ardennes. It likely dates from the early 20th century. The back of the hand and the back of the mounting plate both bear the manufacturer's mark--an anchor between the letters C and F--as well as the number 10 C. The hinge block and the knocker each bear the number 10.The brass has a warm patina, signs of wear, and some traces of verdigris. The iron mounting hardware shows
