Description

An early ladies' Omega wristwatch of the 'trench' type: a Swiss Omega movement in a British 9ct gold case by the Dennison Watch Case Company, hallmarked in Birmingham for 1926/27. In this period Omega commonly had cases made in Britain by Dennison to avoid import duties.
Movement: Omega, manual wind, signed and numbered 6674133 (c.1925). 'Swiss Made' on the barrel bridge, R/A regulator. Calibre believed to be 23.7 (not verified under the balance). In working order.
Dial: white enamel with black Roman numerals (IIII at four), railway minute track with lozenge markers at 12, 3, 6 and 9, subsidiary seconds at six. Signed Omega with the ? logo, 'Swiss Made'.
Excellent condition: no hairlines, no chips, numerals crisp.
