Description

19th-century portrait painter. Oil on canvas, "Character Study: Woman with a Headscarf," signed "A. Lefebvre" in the upper right corner. 46 × 37.6 cm. French school.Augustin François Lefebvre was born in Roubaix (Nord) in 1858. He trained under Ernest Hébert (1817-1908) and Luc-Olivier Merson (1846-1920). Lefebvre exhibited at the Salon des Artistes Français, notably portraits, and worked in the tradition of late 19th-century academic and realist painting. The Palais des Beaux-Arts in Lille holds a portrait by him titled Emile Hornezdated 1883. Our painting is fully in keeping with this spirit of uncompromising realist painting, an ideal that certain talented artists of that era embraced with passion. Early 20th-century wooden frame with gilded stucco. Previous restoration in the lower
