Description

19th-Century Silver-Plated Bronze Flower Vase - Pheasant and Sheaf of Wheat - Opalescent Blue Bohemian Glass Charming 19th-century flower vase consisting of an elegant trumpet-shaped vase made of semi-opalescent blue Bohemian glass, resting on a bronze base with a silver-plated finish and a nuanced patina, featuring animal and pastoral motifs.The composition depicts a pheasant at the foot of a sheaf of wheat, set in a finely crafted naturalistic setting. The quality of the modeling, the rendering of the plumage, and the realism of the scene evoke the work of 19th-century animal sculptors, notably Jules Moigniez, whose style this piece embodies.The pedestal rests on a wide circular bronze base, adorned with a repetitive geometric frieze, providing a stable foundation for the entire piece.The trumpet-shaped vase, with its delicate shades of blue and opalescent white, features a slender silhouette topped by a scalloped opening. It contrasts harmoniously with the darker tones of the mount.The glass vase is removable, allowing it to be taken out for cleaning or to display the elements separately.The set is in excellent condition and presentation, with a lovely antique patina featuring silvery and brown hues that highlight the reliefs and details of the sculpture.A particularly charming decorative piece, combining the arts of animal bronze casting and Bohemian glassmaking, ideal for enhancing a display case, a cabinet of curiosities, or a collection of 19th-century art objects.Characteristics:Period: 19th centuryStyle: naturalistic, in the style of Jules MoigniezMaterials: patinated silver-plated bronze and semi-opalescent blue Bohemian glassTotal height: 19 cmBase diameter: 9.5 cmRemovable trumpet-shaped vaseCondition: in excellent condition, with a nuanced antique patina L'ALCHIMISTE ATELIER - VendéeWorkshop specializing in the restoration of light fixtures, bronzes, sculptures, and antique art objects.Contact by phone, text message, or WhatsApp.Additional photos and videos available upon request.Careful packaging and secure shipping within France and the European Union.We respond to inquiries within 48 hours.
