Description

An elegant pair of two-arm wall sconces made of gilded iron and cut glass with anaturalistic charm. Each tapered, fluted shaft is topped with a leaf-adorned lamp base,featuring a crested bird with finely chiseled plumage and a long, tapered tail. Leafy twigs branch out from the base, accompanied by faceted glass flowers that support the lampshades and lamp heads. Biography Maison Baguès, a creator of artistic lighting fixtures, was founded around 1840 by Noël Baguès in Auvergne. Specializing in liturgical bronzes, the company expanded in the late 19th century and began producing lighting fixtures made of bronze thanks to the widespread adoption of electricity. In the 1920s, Baguès created its own designs infine metalwork. Under the leadership of Eugène and Victor Baguès, the
