Pair Of Putti Dancing A Bacchanal, Signed Clodion, 19th Century.

9 500 EUR

Signature : Clodion

Period : 19th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Bronze

Height : 35

Description

An elegant pair of putti dancing a bacchanal, in bronze with a brown patina and gilded bronze, signed Clodion, 19th century.These two charming putti, captured in a movement full of grace and spontaneity, poetically evoke the festive world of the Bacchanalia. One holds aloft a tambourine while his companion plays a musical instrument, creating a lively and harmonious scene.The delicacy of their expressions, the refined detailing of their curly hair, and the quality of the modeling lend these figures a remarkable sculptural presence. The bronzes feature a subtle contrast between the deep brown patina and the elegant highlights of gilded bronze.Each figure rests on a circular gilded bronze base, adorned with a beaded frieze, which underscores the refinement of the ensemble.A charming decorative

Dealer

ANTIKVARIAT NICE
Antiquaire Généraliste
Tel : +33751057820
Mobile : +33751057820

16 Rue Verdi
Nice 06000

composition, imbued with movement and elegance, characteristic of the refined taste of the 19th century.Height: 35 cm.