Description

Born in Lódz (Poland) in 1927 and having settled in Belgium after World War II (where he was particularly active in Antwerp and Brussels), Joseph Segal is an expressionist figurative painter and sculptor. His work is deeply rooted in the heritage of the Eastern European Yiddish world, klezmer music, dance, and the folk figures of the shtetl.Inspired by both Chagall's imagination and the work of Sholem Aleichem, Fiddler on the Roof is one of the most iconic and sought-after subjects in his body of sculptural work.
