Description

Superb dining table with a parquet top featuring marquetry stars, a motif reminiscent of the marquetry of Lorraine in eastern France.This design is sometimes found on old parquet floors from the 17th and 18th centuries in grand French homes.The base is made of carved oak. It also has two extension leaves that open on either side, allowing it to accommodate many more guests. A very high-quality French piece from the 20th century, circa 1920/1930, entirely handcrafted by a master cabinetmaker.

This table is fully demountable: base, top, and two extension leaves.DimensionsLength (closed): 2.49 mLength (open): 3.69 mWidth: 1.20 mTotal height: 75 cmHeight below the apron: 60 cm
