Pair Of Bottle-shaped Vases Made Of Rouen Earthenware With Polychrome Decoration, 18th Century

250 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Restauré

Material : Earthenware

Height : 19 cm

Description

A pair of small earthenware bottle vases with high-fire polychrome decoration; the globular body rests on a circular pedestal and extends into a long, flared tubular neck. Painted decoration featuring stylized foliage in cobalt blue, iron red, ochre yellow, and green. Alternating blue bands and brick-red checkered strips on the neck. Rouen, 18th century. Dimensions: height 19 cm. In good overall condition, with a beautiful glossy glaze and fresh colors (the slight marks visible in the photos are simply superficial dust deposits, which have since been cleaned). Note: old restorations to both small pedestals and the necks. Green felt protective padding under the bases.
