Description

A striking painting depicting a path or road flanked by ochre- and sand-colored walls, enlivened by dense vegetation in shades of green and light, airy brushstrokes. On the left, a small figure moves toward the background, where a blue opening can be glimpsed, evoking the horizon or the sea. On the right, an opening with a balcony or railing is set into the wall. The brushwork is fluid, spontaneous, and expressive, with textured brushstrokes on the foliage and the light-colored ground.
