Description

An important Venetian chest of drawers from the second half of the 18th century, a refined example of the aristocratic taste of the Venetian Republic during a transitional phase between the Louis XV style and the emerging Louis XVI style. The piece stands out for its elegant, undulating, and curved lines on the front and sides--a feature reserved for the most prestigious commissions for families of the high nobility and the Venetian elite.Crafted from finely lacquered wood and embellished with delicate gilded moldings, it features extraordinary painted decoration in the "riserva" technique, depicting courtly scenes and figures inspired by the Venetian Rococo repertoire. The refined ornamental volutes and the quality of the miniature work attest to the skill of highly specialized artisans active in the most
