Description

Description :This oval Longwy faience bowl, made circa 1950-1960, features a bird and floral design by Suzanne Masson in polychrome champlevé enamels. The deep, flared bowl rises from an oval foot and ends in a scalloped cobalt-blue rim. A band of orange scrollwork follows the curves of the rim, accentuating the shape of the piece.At the center, a bird with blue, green, and ochre plumage perches on a flowering branch. Red and pale pink blossoms mingle with broad turquoise leaves against a cream ground, framed by delicate blue scrolls. Around the central scene, clusters of yellow flowers, red buds, and green leaves form a continuous border on a vivid blue ground. Fine dark outlines define the individual enamel colors and bring out the details of the feathers and petals.The turquoise
