Description

Pair of antique gilded bronze candlesticks with a patina, in the Louis XV style, from the 19th centuryThis pair of gilded bronze candlesticks features symmetrical and highly structured decorative work. The candle holder base is ornate, with a scalloped and lobed rim, adorned with small foliage reliefs. The candle holder (where the candle is placed) has a slightly flared shape with softened edges. Its upper section features a guilloché pattern (a fine engraved grid), while its base is adorned with acanthus leaves and scrolls in relief. The shaft (central column) is of the baluster type with a sinuous profile, characteristic of the Rocaille style. The base rests on a molded and guilloché pedestal. The base is wide, with a scalloped shape and sinuous contours (alternating convex and concave
