Description

French, extremely decorative Art Déco wrought-iron console table with gray-green-beige marble top, 1920s.This piece is an absolute feast for the eyes.The delicate lines, with their particularly artfully placed volutes and strands of stylized Art Déco flowers, are a delight to the eyes.The entire surface is fluted with small, elongated lines, and the four square legs taper to a round tenon at the base. On the top the marble features a decorative grain pattern and rests securely on the base, as it snaps into place on two small tenons.The piece is elegant and rare due to its size and attractive height; the craftsmanship is of the highest quality.
