Description

Features and Historical Details:Base: Central body carved in the shape of a neoclassical amphora with characteristic square side handles ending in volutes. The structure features typical 18th-century craftsmanship in carved wood, lacquered in ivory white and gilded with gold leaf, with a striking original patina from that era. It rests on a square base plinth.Lampshade (fan-shaped): A flat, "fan-shaped" lampshade, covered in damask fabric with a floral rose pattern in shades of cream and antique gold, embellished along the entire perimeter with braided trim.Lighting Ambience: When lit, the fabric's weave diffuses a warm, enveloping light that enhances the reflections of the antique gilding.Condition: Excellent condition consistent with its age, featuring natural craquelure and
