Description

A triptych clock in gilded, chiseled bronze. The clock features a wide base decorated with leaf-shaped volutes and plant motifs finely engraved with a burin, upon which rests the clock case adorned with garlands of flowers tied with ribbon. At the top is a cup-shaped vase with a floral arrangement. It features an enameled metal dial with Roman numerals for the hours and Arabic numerals for the minutes, protected by a cover with curved glass. The hands are made of gilded bronze and are finely openwork. The movement is marked "Japy Fils 1855." The pair of gilded, chiseled bronze five-flame candelabra stand 55 centimeters tall.
