19th-century Louis XVI-style Mahogany Desk, Flat-topped

780 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Mahogany

Description

Louis XVI-style mahogany writing desk - 19th centuryA very elegant Louis XVI-style mahogany writing desk from the 19th century.This beautiful desk features a front richly adorned with numerous gilded bronze fittings depicting foliage, laurel leaves, and decorative elements characteristic of the Louis XVI style. It opens to reveal several drawers, some of which are fitted with interior compartments.It rests on four tapered, fluted legs, embellished with gilded bronze, giving the piece a particularly elegant and refined silhouette.The top is upholstered in green leather edged with a fine gilded frieze and protected by glass. Two side extensions, also covered in green leather, allow the work surface to be expanded. When both extensions are open, the desk reaches a total width of 2 meters.The

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Galerie Christophe Elisabeth
Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech
Lézignan-Corbières 11200

mahogany features a beautiful patina, and the piece is adorned with extensive gilded bronze decoration.Period: 19th centuryStyle: Louis XVIMaterial: mahogany and gilded bronzeTop: green leather under glassDimensions when closed: height 80 cm × width 130 cm × depth 70 cmWidth with both extension leaves open: 200 cmAn elegant, characterful desk, ideal for a study, a library, or a refined interior.