Description

Superb and rare pair of painting XIXth representing oil for a scene of shipwreck and the other a storm scene. It is made by bar Clementine (1807-1859), painter of the mid-nineteenth. His paintings are of great quality, the details are clear, the beautiful sunset colors and rendering of the remarkable sea. It is a work of great finesse presented in wooden frames and gilded stucco. The paintings are signed and dated CB 44 for one at the bottom right and left to the other. A light repair old for one visible in the photo of dos. Superbe all very harmonious.
