Description

This impost summed a storefront of the Belle Époque period. The two extremities present panels in "heap of sand". The glazed reserves (one in blown glass) are surrounded by a strong molding projecting in doucine. They are surrounded by triangular sculptures of acanthus leaves with their central button. The back also has the shutters which allowed access to each oculus. It is therefore easy to slip in a collection and / or lighting. Possesses its old painting patinated by time This unusual decorative element can be used both vertically and horizontally
