Description

Dresser with three drawers plated in Walnut with inlays, made in Switzerland in the first half of the 1700s.

The front has a double crown
and two arched columns to decorate the edges.

The top and the front of the drawers are inlaid
with hunting scenes, animals and flower pots, while in the sides we find a rhombus inserted in a frame with rounded corners.

All this is done by mixing lighter and darker woods or with marked veins.

To support the dresser four turned feet.

Not restored but in good condition
