Description

Painting of undergrowth crossed by a stream with golden hues of autumn. Oil on canvas, directed by Léon Joseph BOUDOT (1851-1928) landscape painter of the school Franc-Contoise which was the pupil of Louis French and Gustave Courbet. He participated in the Salon from 1877 to 1924, he also exhibited at the Universal Exhibitions of 1899 and 1900. His works are present at the museums of Besançon, Nancy, Reims, Nîmes, Cannes and in public and private American collections. Léon BOUDOT, a specialist in the representation of the landscapes he deals with in a descriptive and realistic way, was fond of seeing the colors of autumn in this painting (probably a view of the Jura).
