vibrant touches of colors to convey the light of Provence and express a poetry in his works.

Student of Cormon and Carolus-Duran at the Jullian Academy in Paris. He exhibited at the Salon of French Artists in 1880. Not being popular enough in Paris, he decided to settle in Saint-Tropez where he leads a life without material worries as wine owner. During the inter-war years, he appeared again in Parisian exhibitions from 1924 to 1935.

These works are preserved in the Orsay Museum in Paris and at the Annonciade Museum in Saint-Tropez.

Size : 49 x 80 cm without frame and 64 x 94 cm with its gilt wood frame.
