Description

Rare fountain or black stone cooler of St Cyr Mont d'Or (Rhône) cut in the eighteenth century, Louis XV period, its basin shaped kidney is typical of this period as its molding sill, its fountain in Carrara white marble restored to the original, (its use of water reserve having damaged it), is molded and visible on all four sides, an oculus in the upper part allowed its water supply. This fountain comes from a home of Saint Cyr Mont d'Or (Rhône).
