Description

Charming oil on canvas of the late eighteenth century, representing two children having fun singing a tame bird in an interior.

the children are charming, the girl is wearing a lace cap and the boy with curly hair has a loose shirt with a large collar.

the scene unfolds in front of a curtain, we can see books exposed in the background on the left.

the bird seems tamed and sings on the children's hand. a charming and amusing scene, rather unusual, dating from the end of the 18th century.

the painting has been reentoile.

the gilded wood frame is old.

a pretty decorative scene.
