Description

French School of the 19th century, Attributed to Achille Deveria (1800-1857) A Lady and a boy with a dog, a Renaissance style scene Oil on wood panel 22 x 13 cm A label on the reverse with the mention of the attribution to Deveria In a modern frame : 43 x 34 cm The attribution to Achille Deveria makes sense because of the style and as he was a major figure of the Troubadour style painting. As in this charming painting, artists of the time wanted to evocate the daily life of middle ages and Renaissance era, in a very idealized way of course. This cultural movement was also present in music and literature, with for example the famous Notre Dame de Paris by Victor Hugo. The artist evokes here Italy and Florence, the building in the background is clearly inspired by the Palazzo Vecchio.
