Description

Wrought iron table with its thick oak top. This table dates from the first half of the 20th century, around 1930-1940. Its base is of very good quality, very thick and decorated with windings. On one end of this table, there are two drawbars with the possibility of adding a piece of wood as an extension. This table is in very good condition, note the natural wear of time. Its very thick plateau of high quality is posterior. Dimensions: 225cm long, 97cm wide and 80cm high. With an extension, we arrive at 270cm long. The tray is 5cm thick.
