Description

Important and exceptional pair of candelabra in silvered bronze Rococo style, the first half of the nineteenth century, around 1840. Our candelabra are in the purest style of Rococo invented under Louis XV, in the eighteenth century, provided with a sculpture very finely chiselled and jagged. A set of foliage, leaves is worth noting. They rest on a broad openworked foot and are four branches, terminated by leaf shaped bobeche. The rock style was very courted in the nineteenth century, from 1840 and was a great success under Napoleon III. In perfect condition. Dimensions: Height: 40 cm, Width: 32 cm, Depth: 25 cm. Private Collection.
