Description

Plate 85 of the "Collection of 100 prints representing different nations of the Levant" taken from paintings painted from nature in 1707 and 1708, by orders of the Marquis de Ferriol, ambassador of Louis 14 to the Sublime Porte. This copper engraving from 1712 is engraved by Haussard under the direction of Le Hay after drawings by the Flemish artist Jean-Baptiste Van Mour. It represents Dergoumidas, an Armenian priest condemned by the Grand Vizier Ali Pasha, who died as a martyr on November 5, 1707. In a wooden frame from the 19th century. Belle Marie-Louise.
