2 Photographs. 1902. Studio Albert Jenkins. India- British Empire.

150 EUR

Signature : Studio Albert Jenkins

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Paper

Width : 34,5 cm

Height : 42 cm

Description

Original pasted photographs on cardboard.
Located and titled on the back.
Signed in pencil + Dry tempon. Dimensions 42 x 34.5 cm.
Some stains. Good general condition.
Price of 150 euros for the pair.
The amateur drama club of Shimla (or Simla), "summer capital" of British India, was founded in 1838. From 1887 it was housed at the Gaiety Theater. The Club gradually developed as an institution with the aim of both promoting the theater and as a place of socialization for military officers, good British society and a number of Indians. Among its members the famous writer Rudyard Kipling; the founder of the Boy Scout movement: R Baden-Powell, the Kendalls, great dynasty of actors and some important families

Dealer

Dupire et Kotek
Antiquités, tableaux, arts appliqués, vintage, objets de charme
Tel : 00 32 495 205 344
Mobile : 0032 474 26 22 88

Avenue de Broqueville 34
Bruxelles 1200

like the Strachey and the McQuaid. Frances McQuaid is here represented in the costume of "Dorothy", heroine of an unidentified play whose representation took place in 1902.