Description

Jim Dine, Donald Duck from the Tool box 6 series. 1966. Mixed media on paper, serigraphy and collage. Signed in pencil Jim Dine. Numbered 12/150 on the back. Born in 1935 in Cincinnati, Ohio, in the United States, Jim Dine was widely involved in the pop art scene of the 1960s, although his work was inspired by abstract expressionism and assembly and collage techniques. from Dada. In the early 1960s, he began to attach objects of personal importance to the canvas, including paintbrushes, screwdrivers and wooden pieces. The Tool Box series contains a number of complex images from industrial design magazines and technical manuals, and in the case of Tool Box VI - Donald Duck, an image of Donald Duck, probably due to Dine's American education .
