Description

Ball fountain made up of a sphere carved in granite supported by a thin trickle of water which allows it to turn on its base. The base is also made of granite. The sphere rests on the natural block, in a polished hollow, perfectly adapted to its diameter. The astonishing aspect of this fountain and its rotary movement allow an original decoration at the entrance of an establishment, a hotel, a store or a property. The diameter of the sphere is 50 cm. The support measures 80 cm x 80 cm.
