Description
-------------

Maxa NORDAU (1897 - 1991) Oil on canvas 55x46 cm "Portrait of Miss Cohen" Around 1950 Signed on the upper right, titled on the back Maxa Nordau is part of the School of Paris.
Pupil of Jules Adler. From the 1920s, she led an international career between Paris, New York and Israel. She also participated in the decoration of the Palestine Pavilion at the International Exhibition of 1937. We know of this sincere painter, landscapes, portraits, still lifes, taken on the occasion of his many trips, especially in the East. The portrait of young girl ("Miss Cohen") that we present is treated in a sensitive and lively way, with a beautiful expression of the young model, in a beautiful harmony of limited colors. Biblio: Bénézit, Schurr, Jewish Painters in Paris, Dict Edouard Joseph ... Not framed
