Grand Prix du Portrait was awarded to him in 1933 and a Gold Medal dedicated his talent the following year. After the War of 14-18, he traveled extensively in northern Europe to Provence and Italy. He painted landscapes, numerous portraits and many works devoted to women: bathing nymphs, nudes against the backdrop of the landscape and dancers. His engraved work is very important with strong water and dry points. He obtained in engraving a Silver Medal at the Salon of French Artists in 1929 and a Gold Medal in 1932. Lives in New York during the Second World War with his wife, the artist Lucienne Estival.
