Description

A magnificent polychrome wooden statue of Saint Anthony of Padua, originating from Spain and dating from the 17th-18th centuries. This sculpture depicts the traditional vision of Saint Anthony holding a missal on which the Christ Child appears, symbolizing the saint's miraculous encounter. The treatment of the robe is particularly unique and uncommon, distinguishing this piece from more classical representations of the saint.

The well-preserved polychromy and natural patina of the wood highlight the age and authenticity of this statue. With its impressive dimensions of 64 cm high, 26 cm wide, and 17 cm deep, this sculpture brings a strong spiritual and historical presence to any interior or
